Addendum to Applicant Initiated Interview Request Form

The question we wish to present is: Are the rejections related to language that describes orientation?

For example;

- 1. With respect to claim 1, the 'pliable-outer covering' (18) of Yewer is simply a belt loop as disclosed at C 3, LL 6-18. The 'semi-rigid frame member (14) parallel to the longitudinal axis' is described as "cinching strap" or "strap" at C 3, LL 43-44 and LL 55-57; C 4, L 28. These narrow strips seem much different than the pliable outer covering and semi-rigid frame disclosed and claimed in the referenced application.
- 2. Regarding claims 20 or 23 the vertically disposed plates (32) of Rogers and not part of the belt but are attached to the mating parts on the belt and not analogous to the 'vertically disposed plates connected to a duty belt' of claim 23 in the present application.
- 3. Claims 12 and 22 are both rejected as unpatentable over Guibord in view of Taragos. The 'elongated semi rigid members' (66) of Guibord are fastened at intervals with bolts or rivets (61) to form free regions (68) that allow mounting hooks. C 3, LL 35 58. Our examination of figures 1 and 2 indicates that the free regions and therefore the straps are located along the longitudinal or horizontal axis of the belt. As this assessment disagrees with the examiners representation that Guibord discloses vertically disposed plates we would like to gain a better understanding of this rejection

There does not seem to be any structural bar to allowance. Are we missing something in the claim language?
